

Anime/Manga/Pop Culture Statues and Figures

Ok, first, let us acknowledge there are many different figures from many different producers, some of which are small, some large and some very niche or very high end. So we would like to start by saying what we don't consider for purchase.

- 1) No Chibi figures
- 2) No Q-Posket or similarly small and queitified/kidafied style little figures
- 3) No Action Figures
- 4) No dolls or doll-like figures. No Plushies.
- 5) N Gundam or other model kits.

Next, we recognize that some figures can be quite large, have extraordinary detail and be quite expensive. There is certainly a market for such things, but not so much in used/resale. People looking to spend notable money on a collectible figure generally want a new-in-the-box pristine collectible, so buying those types of figures generally make no sense for us as a store to resell 2nd hand.

Stuff we can consider.

Manga, Anime, Pop Culture and maybe some super-hero themed statues. Items from the like of companies like Ban Presto, Bandai, Diamond Select Toys, Weta Workshop, Good Smile Company, Max Factory, Sega, Beast Kingdom and others. This list is not exhaustive.

GOB Retail will buy statues/figures of these types and nature for a flat rate. They are meant to be resold and used/2nd hand rather than higher end collectives. So you will have to make the determination if you have a higher end collectible or rather a fun little figure meant for decoration (out of the box) and maybe retain those collectibles or consider selling them to someone seeking the higher end collectibles market.
